

Loan Trust – Single Settlor

The Loan Trust is designed to enable the Settlor to make a gift of the growth of his or her investment whilst still maintaining control over the original capital.

For more information about the Loan Trust, please refer to our Guide to Trusts booklet and Loan Trust Spotlight aid.

Completing the trust form

(The numbering denotes the relevant clause in the trust form.)

The Settlor – Creating the Trust

The trust form should be completed by the Settlor, i.e. the person who is to make the Loan. There may only be one Settlor for this type of Trust.

- A(i) The trust form must be dated on or before the date of the Loan Agreement. The Trustees will complete the application for any investment bond and should date any such application after the date of the Loan Agreement.

Who are the Trustees?

The Trustees are the recipients of the Loan from the Settlor and will be the legal owners of the bond(s) or other asset(s) to be acquired by them with the Loan funds, upon trust for the benefit of the person(s) specified in the Trust.

- B(ii) There must be at least two Trustees entered at B(ii) for the Trust to be effective, but up to four Trustees may be nominated. We strongly suggest that one of the Trustees be independent, i.e. someone who is not a beneficiary or the Settlor. Trustees must be aged 18 or over.
- F(ii) The Settlor may appoint new Trustees to act with the existing Trustees of the Trust. After the Settlor's death, the Trustees may appoint new Trustees.
- F(iii) The Settlor, so long as there are two Trustees or a Trust Corporation still acting after the removal, may remove a Trustee from office.

What is included in the Trust?

- B(iv) The Loan money which is then invested by the Trustees in one or more investment bonds or other assets.

The Named Beneficiaries

- B(vii) The Settlor must specify Named Beneficiaries whichever form of trust he chooses. If the Settlor chooses the Bare Trust form the Named Beneficiaries will benefit in the Appropriate Shares. If the Discretionary Trust is chosen the Named Beneficiaries are the persons who will benefit in the Appropriate Shares in default of the Trustees' exercising fully their dispositive powers, i.e. if the Trustees omit to make an appointment in favour of one or more persons from the list of Discretionary Beneficiaries at B(vii) (see below), or if the Trustees make an appointment of some but not all of the trust assets.

In the case of a Bare Trust, the Named Beneficiaries and the Appropriate Shares cannot be altered after the Trust is created. In the case of the Discretionary Trust option, the Trustees can always exercise their discretion in favour of any of the Discretionary Beneficiaries, and the Settlor can always add new Discretionary Beneficiaries (see The Discretionary Beneficiaries below).

In either case the Settlor or their spouse/civil partner must not be a Named Beneficiary in order to ensure that the tax effectiveness of the Trust is not prejudiced.

If a Named Beneficiary dies, where the Bare Trust is chosen then his share passes to his estate. If the Discretionary Trust option is taken the share of a Named Beneficiary may be appointed away by the Trustees to any of the Discretionary Beneficiaries at any time during the Trust Period, whether or not the Named Beneficiary has died.

The Discretionary Beneficiaries

B(viii) This provision only applies if the Discretionary Trust option is selected.

The Discretionary Trust form gives a range of Discretionary Beneficiaries in whose favour the Trustees may appoint the whole or part of the Trust Fund, either permanently or revocably. This means that the Trustees can override the Settlor's choice of Named Beneficiaries and Appropriate Shares. During the Settlor's lifetime, however, this can only happen with his consent (see clause E(i), proviso (A)).

An appointment is effected by a simple signed and witnessed deed made by the Trustees. A specimen Deed of Appointment of a share of the Trust Fund is available from us.

Subject to any such appointment any income of the Trust Fund, unless accumulated, is distributable as it arises among the Discretionary Beneficiaries, in such shares as the Trustees, acting unanimously, decide. This decision does not depend on a Deed of Appointment being executed.

The Discretionary Beneficiaries include the Named Beneficiaries, the Settlor's children, remoter issue and siblings and the current, former or surviving spouses or civil partners of any of the foregoing. The Settlor may add additional persons to the class of Discretionary Beneficiaries by completing the space provided at B(vii)(f). The Settlor may also add additional persons to the class of Discretionary Beneficiaries at any time by a signed document given to the Trustees while he is alive or by will, or by both methods.

The Settlor must not be included as a Discretionary Beneficiary, as this will prejudice the tax effectiveness of the Trust.

Choosing the form of Trust

C. The Settlor must initial the appropriate box to choose between the Bare Trust form and the Discretionary Trust form. If the Settlor initials the Bare Trust box in Part C the applicable trust provisions will be those in Part D. If the Settlor initials the Discretionary Trust box in Part C the applicable trust provisions will be those in Part E.

Signing the Trust

I. The trust form must be signed by the Settlor before a witness who must sign against the Settlor's signature. The witness must be independent, over 18 and not a relative of the person whose signature is being witnessed.

The Trustees should sign at the end of the trust form, adding the date of their respective signatures. This is to confirm acceptance of their appointment as Trustees.

The Loan Agreement

When should the Agreement be completed?

The Agreement must be Dated on or after the date of the Declaration of Trust but before the date of the application for any investment bond.

Who are the parties to the Agreement?

1. This is completed by the person who is the Settlor under the Loan Agreement and the Trustees.

What is covered by the Agreement?

The Loan Agreement should specify the date of the Declaration of Trust and the amount of the Loan.

How will the Loan be Repaid?

The Agreement should specify the amount to be repaid to the Settlor annually. To avoid any immediate UK Income Tax charge the amount should not exceed 5 % of the amount invested by the Trustees in the purchase of the bond.

Who signs the Agreement?

The Agreement must be signed by the Settlor and the Additional Trustees. Each Signature must be witnessed as for the trust form.

Request to Trustees for Loan Repayment

This document should be completed if the Settlor wishes subsequently to vary the amount being repaid. It is addressed to the Trustees of the Trust and specifies the amount to be repaid immediately. The balance of the Loan must be repaid through future requests for Loan repayments. It should be borne in mind that an increase in the rate of the Loan repayment could give rise to a UK Income Tax liability. This form is available on request.
